

Spring Opening

Our new line of Millinery, Waists, Skirts, Ladies' Misses and Children's Coats, and Suits will all be in stock and ready for your inspection

Thursday, Mar. 18

Our stocks in these lines are more complete than ever before. The styles are new and exquisite. The qualities are as good as are shown by stores much larger than ours. The prices are much cheaper than city prices. Remember the date. We are pleased to have you come; it's a pleasure to show you.

REED & SMITH CO.

Lead in PRICE and SERVICE.

Our implements are strongly built, yet light-running and not hard on stock. This saves valuable feed and at the same time makes more work possible with less strain on the team.

Come in and let us explain our implements to you. We are exclusive agents for many desirable makes and have them constantly in stock.

Our hardware is the best: It stands the test.

BILBREY BROTHERS

Mrs. S. A. Ross left last week to join her husband in Indianapolis, Ind., where they will make their future home. Mr. Ross is in the insurance business.

Miss Gladys Comstock left Friday for Murfreesboro to enter upon her duties as teacher in the school there. She stopped off at Cookeville to visit her sister, Miss Jaunita, who is a student at T. P. I.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. West, who have been visiting with relatives and friends at Corpus Christi, Texas, for some weeks, are expected to arrive home today.

J. T. Horn is having several rooms of his residence covered with wall board, which will add greatly to the comfort and pleasing appearance of the home. P. V. Beadle is doing the work.

There is far more work in sight in this county now than ever before and the people are standing on tiptoe waiting for the weather conditions to permit active work. When spring weather comes in earnest there will certainly be "something doing" all over the county and labor prices will be most encouraging to those who have labor to sell.

Mr. Mack Trent, recruiting officer from Camp Taylor, Ky., and Miss Lenna Agge were married Sunday night by Rev. O. B. Rector at his home.

The mule sale held here Saturday did not prove a success for the owners as bidding was slow and prices correspondingly low. During the sale J. W. Buttrum and Frank Potter were knocked down by some of the mules and run over with the result that both had their faces badly bruised and Mr. Buttrum was also bruised on his left leg and shoulder. Both are able to go about and will soon be fully recovered it is expected.

Library paste at the Chronicle office.

Mr. and Mrs. John Green, who have been occupying the Martha Rhea residence for the past few months, left last week for Kansas City, Mo.

WALL PAPER—I have a full line of wall paper, C. E. and see my line. W. F. Bandy. 11-5-tf.

We are in receipt of a letter from W. L. Taylor, Orange, California, where he has been for five years conducting a paper. About a year ago he had a severe attack of "flu" and shortly after getting out was hurt by an automobile and all together he was unable to do much for several months. Recently he sold his paper there to his competitors. They found it more profitable to buy him out than to face his keen competition. They have engaged him as editor and he is still with the company but will likely seek another field in which to start another paper. Mr. Taylor is well known to many here. He was for several years an employee of the Chronicle and a more industrious or capable man we have never had nor one who was more ready to do his full duty and then some. He wields a pungent and versatile pen and makes a splendid paper.

The indoor closet is not a luxury but a necessity, both for old and young, and guaranteed perfectly odorless. Enquire at this office. 2-25-tf.

R. H. Corriell and wife have been here a few weeks from Ohio. A few days ago Mr. Corriell bought the Palutz farm, two miles north of town. The farm has about fifty acres of cleared land and a total of 170 acres. There is also more than a mile of woven wire fence on the place. The purchase price was $3,000.00, which is very cheap considering the cleared land, good well, reasonably good house and barn and some standing timber of a marketable kind. Mr. Corriell and wife plan to spend the summer on the place. They are from South-easter, Ohio.

Get rice paper for wrapping butter at the Chronicle office; it cost about one-fourth cent to the pound and is much better than any other wrapping paper you can get.

We are in receipt of a copy of the Buhl Republican which tells of the death of Claude Flynn, at Coledale, Canada, Feb. 8, at the age of 18 years, 5 months and 20 days. The young man had been with his brother-in-law in Canada the past year making a wheat crop. The young man died from the effects of influenza. The deepest sympathy of many in this section will go out to Mr. and Mrs. Flynn in their sorrow.

Bring your crippled watches and broken jewelry to the Chronicle office and Bishop will have them repaired for you and you can pay the bill when the article returns. We can save you money on a new watch if you want one.

John Reynolds died Friday night of tuberculosis at his home here. His wife is suffering from the same malady. They moved here from Byrdstown something over a year ago. He was an industrious and respected man and was held in high esteem by those who knew him. He leaves a wife and one or more children.

No pen surpasses the WATERMAN, sold at the Chronicle office. If you never used a WATERMAN it is likely you do not know what a really good and satisfactory fountain pen is. They are all guaranteed.

The storm that struck this section last Thursday was the worst of the winter. While the cold was not quite so severe as once before this winter, there was a stiff wind with the storm and much rain at first, but freezing temperatures soon prevailed and the spell became very trying to stock and those who were out in it.

Stayed—Eight head of hogs. Marked with crop and underbit in left and smooth crop off right ear. Reasonable reward for information leading to recovery. Ervia Turner. 3-3-t.

The time for active canvass by the candidates is growing short. Up to this time there has been little interest manifested, so far as we have learned, but from now on the campaign will likely warm up considerably. The severe weather has made campaigning difficult.

Magazines are arriving on time now, so don't be afraid of ordering new ones. Send your renewals to me also. The publishers promise to see that you receive all copies due you, but do not ask for back numbers, on account of paper shortage. My club lists are just as economical and reasonable as you will find any where. Mrs. G. F. Brookhart, Peavine, Tenn.

WANTED: To buy in or near Crossville from five to twenty acres of land, well improved, with good water and good buildings. Must have orchards and other fruits. Land must be good and price reasonable, also located on some good road. In replying give full details of property, stating price.

Address Room 316 Stahlman Building, Nashville, Tenn. 5-10-tf.

At the Chronicle office library paste in 8 and 16 ounce jars, having double water well and brush

SPOKE BLOCKS

I want to buy Spoke Blocks. They must be cut 28 inches long, be not less than 7 inches in diameter and from 7 to 9 inches clear of knots. From 9 inches up will bear 1 to 3 knots. If hollow or rotten in heart, must have 3 inches solid timber. I want to buy yarded on graded road, anywhere within 8 miles of any T. C. station.

2,000 Ricks 4x8

Will take them up and pay for every two weeks or oftener, if desired, holding back haul bill. For further information see or write me at Crossville.

MIXTURE OF MANY NATIONS

On Street of New York Almost Every Type of the Human Race May Be Met.

Walk through Grand street from Third avenue to Clinton street, which is not a long distance, and you have the types of the whole world before you. They are not in concentrated form; they are diluted. But if you analyze, even hurriedly, you will soon be able to know the components of each one of them, according to "Dust of New York," by Konrad Percovici.

A remote Tartar ancestor of one of the pushcart peddlers is plainly seen in the small, sunken black eyes. In another the straight line of the back of the head tells you that his mother or his grandmother had lived once in Hungary. In another one the Slav type, the flat, fleshy nose is mixed with the Wallachian strong chin. Teuton blood calls out through the heavy cast of an otherwise typical Austrian Jew. A Spanish gaudy, as if come out of a page of Cervantes, is selling shoe laces and cuff buttons. And a Moroccan prince, ill at ease in his European garb, is offering to the passer-by some new Burbankian fig-plum-orange combination.

The vendors call out their wares in what seems at first a tongue all their own. But a trained ear soon discovers that it is English, or, rather, that English is the essential component of the chemistry of their language; the rest being words of their own creation, or scraps from a dozen other languages which stuck to the people of woe in their 2,000 years' peregrination from land to land.

Indian Village Unearthed.

A buried Indian village site, believed to have been occupied 500 years ago, was discovered by M. A. Cramer, Auburn city forester, in digging after a woodchuck in the town of Cato, Cayuga county, New York. The site contained skeletons and many bone implements believed of Iroquois origin.—Niack Evening Journal.

Lewis Burnett was over from Oz one Monday.

Carlyle Tollett was over from Monterey Saturday visiting home folks, Mayor E. G. Tollett and family.

Mrs. Chas. Comstock, who has been confined to her room for a few weeks with influenza, is now able to sit up and hopes to rapidly regain her health.

Miss Gertie Guthrie, sister of assistant cashier Guthrie, arrived home last week after passing some weeks at Knoxville hospital undergoing a serious operation. Miss Guthrie returned much improved and is expected to regain her health soon.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

There will be regular services at the Congregational Church every second and fourth Sundays in each month morning at 11 o'clock, evening at 8 o'clock. Sunday School at 10 a. m. Chas. Comstock, Superintendent. Rev. R. E. Newton, Pastor.

MEATS

I handle fresh and salt meats and vegetables and can furnish you on short notice.

GOOD COFFEE

is one of the strong points in the Meals and Lunches we serve at our restaurant. We furnish toothsome eats at a price that makes you want to come again.
